St Edward's School

"We aim to be a vibrant, dynamic, outstandingly successful and happy learning community"

St Edward's School is a co-educational Roman Catholic and Church of England voluntary aided school located in Poole, Dorset, which is near Bournemouth. The school has high expectations for all its students and prepares them for university, employment, or further learning. The staff manage to foster a caring and supportive environment, ensuring that all students feel valued and motivated. Here, students have access to a wide range of extracurricular activities, including performing arts, sports, and public speaking. St Edward's School aims to create a community where values meet ambition, helping students achieve lifelong success. The school is easily accessible and surrounded by a pleasant, suburban environment.

Poole is a charming coastal town in Dorset, just a short distance from Bournemouth. The town is surrounded by beautiful countryside and parks, such as Upton Country Park and Poole Park, offering plenty of opportunities for outdoor activities.

Where is St Edward's School?

Facts about Poole:

- Europe's largest natural harbour.
- Its Lighthouse is the largest arts centre complex in the United Kingdom outside London.
- 2h away from Heathrow Airport.
- Access to direct trains to London Waterloo and direct coaches to London Victoria.

London
Poole

Subjects available

- Art & Design
- Applied Human Biology
- Biology
- Business
- Chemistry
- Computer Science
- Core Maths
- Drama
- Engineering
- English Language
- English Literature
- French
- German
- Further Maths
- Geography
- Politics
- Health and Social Care
- History
- Maths
- Music
- P.E.
- Physics
- Product Design
- Psychology
- Religious Studies
- Sociology
- Sport

Extracurricular activities

- Fitness
- Homework Club
- Netball
- Football
- Volleyball
- Choir
- Student Newspaper
- Trampolining
- Basketball
- Geography Club
- Orchestra
- Art Club
- Dance Club
- Bee Club
- Language Lounge
- Film Club
- Guitar Ensemble